

GLOSSA

a journal of general linguistics

Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation

This Special Collection investigates the realization and interpretation of subject anaphoric devices in different populations of native and near-native speakers of null and non-null subject languages. Subtle differences beyond the null/ non-null divide and relevant factors and cues are singled out through the use of different experimental techniques.

Guest Editors: Elisa Di Domenico & Simona Matteini

Articles

The role of prosody in overt pronoun resolution in a null subject language and in a non-null subject language: A production study

Chiara Gargiulo, Mechtild Tronnier and Petra Bernardini

2019-12-06 2019 • Volume 4

Also a part of:

Collection: Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation

The processing of subject pronouns in highly proficient L2 speakers of English

Carla Contemori and Paola E. Dussias

2020-04-17 2020 • Volume 5

Also a part of:

Collection: Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation

Null/overt subject alternations in L2 Spanish and L2 Greek

Panagiota Margaza and Anna Gavarró

2020-06-09 2020 • Volume 5

Also a part of:

Collection: Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation

Anaphora resolution and word-order across adulthood: Ageing effects on online listening comprehension

Georgia Fotiadou, Ana I. Pérez Muñoz and Ianthi Maria Tsimpli

2020-07-20 2020 • Volume 5

Also a part of:

Collection: Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation

Variation in the use and interpretation of null subjects: A view from Greek and Italian

Jacopo Torregrossa, Maria Andreou and Christiane M. Bongartz

2020-09-18 2020 • Volume 5

Also a part of:

Collection: Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation

Null and overt subject pronouns in topic continuity and topic shift: An investigation of the narrative productions of Italian Natives, Greek Natives and near-native second language speakers of Italian with Greek as a first language

Elisa Di Domenico, Ioli Baroncini and Andrea Capotorti
2020-12-18 2020 • Volume 5

Also a part of:

Collection: Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation

Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation: an introduction

Elisa Di Domenico and Simona Matteini
2021-04-09 2021 • Volume 6

Also a part of:

Collection: Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation

Children's subjects in Clitic Left Dislocations in Italian

Claudia Manetti and Adriana Belletti
2021-04-13 2021 • Volume 6

Also a part of:

Collection: Micro-variation in subject realization and interpretation